The Dawn of United Dogedom

In the vast expanse of crypto Meme-Verse, between the rocky seas of digital trolls and excited crypto degens lays a great ocean of doge culture. This is where you'll discover The United Dogedom - a beacon of playful satire on dogemocratic elections, and repeated battles for supremacy, leadership and leadership selection of the ephemeral sandcastle nations.

Our mission is to create a world where the whimsy of memes and the seriousness of democratic principles coexist in harmony.

We take it seriously - with VOTE

Born from the Founding Fathers of Bitcoin, and the great legacy of Dogecoin, this digital nation-state purposely focuses on the power of the social popularity of memes in shaping online communities and narratives with the right amount of VOTE tokens.

United Dogedom is more than a crypto meme project; it's a cultural and social phenomenon.

It's a Meme for a Meme, with a Meme

United Dogedom is not just about owning digital assets; it's about participating in this fictional digital society that values your visionary take on the societies, with all the cynicism, creativity, and voice of its members.

This is serious business.

It is your digital right to hold elections and hold your VOTEs, however many you can BUY. That will dictate your leadership status in the Dogemocratic state of United Dogedom where you will wield the power and status to Lead the Communities to new great heights and glory! #UpOnly

For those of you with delusions of grandeur, United Dogedom offers the ultimate playing field.

Buy, Collect your VOTEs, build your digital dominion, charm and strategize your social strategies to build up your reputation all your way to the top of this Dogemocracy.

And remember, in this digital dog-eat-doge world, every VOTE token is a testament to your influence, albeit not financial advice.

The Bitcoin-Dogecoin Origin

This meme project is a Homage to Bitcoin, and a continuation of the Dogecoin legacy, expanding on the idea that a currency can be both a medium of exchange and a symbol of communal identity.

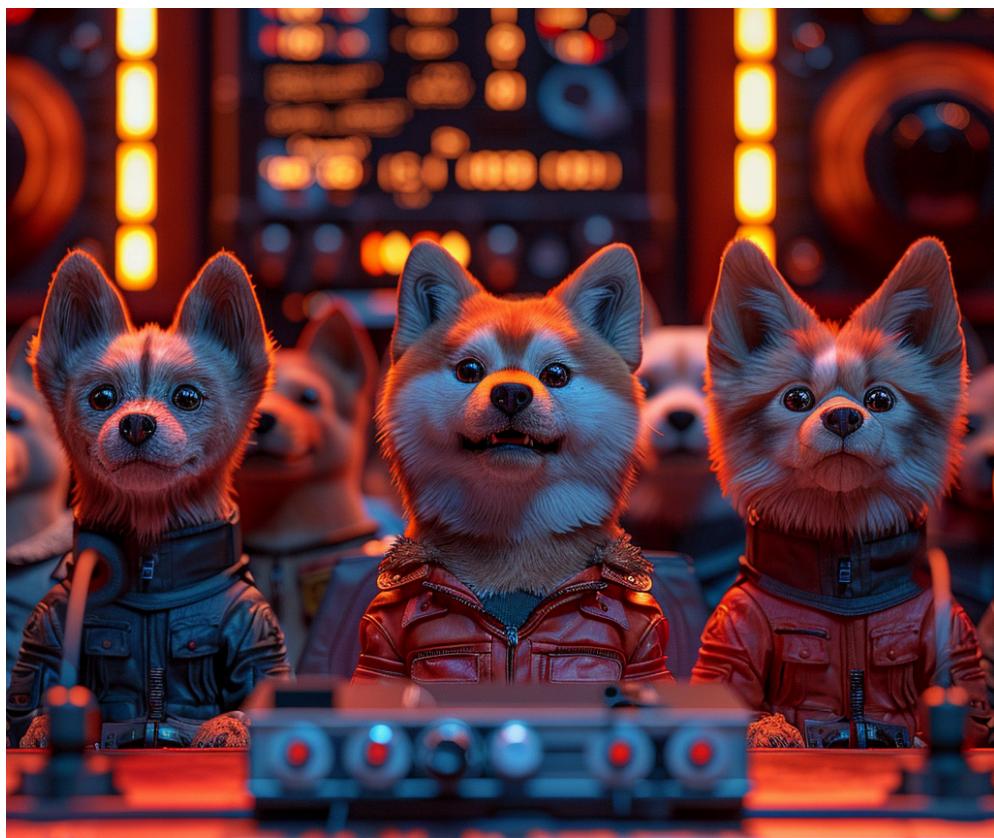

In United Dogedom, the Dogecoin philosophy is elevated to new heights, incorporating elements of satire and political commentary. It's a space where the value of a token is measured not just in market terms but in its ability to represent and unite a community around shared values and humour.

Our mock elections are more than just a playful nod to real-world politics. They are a celebration of our community's creativity and a reflection of our collective humour. These elections are where the nuances of meme culture and the dynamics of digital currencies collide to create a spectacle unlike any other. Factions representing different Doge-based tokens rally behind their chosen leaders, each vying for the title of the "leader of the pack."

In the United Dogedom, the power to influence and lead doesn't come from traditional sources. Instead, it's derived from the ability to resonate with and mobilize the community, to be the most engaging, the most humorous, the most Dogedom-like. It's a satirical yet insightful look at how influence is garnered and exercised in the digital age.

The VOTE in Dogemocracy of Memes

The vision of United Dogedom is to establish a playful yet critical mirror to the world of politics and governance. In our digital nation, the absurdities and idiosyncrasies of real-world elections are transformed into a carnival of memes, where each VOTE token is a caricature of political power.

Our Elections are not won by policies or promises but by social meme impact, retweets, likes and follows that capture wit, satire, and the ability to resonate with the community.

Tokenomics

In United Dogedom, the tokenomics of VOTE are designed to reflect both the value and the values of our community. With a cap of 332 million tokens - were mapped to the "greatest meme-making nation", and Every Vote Matters - albeit at the right price.

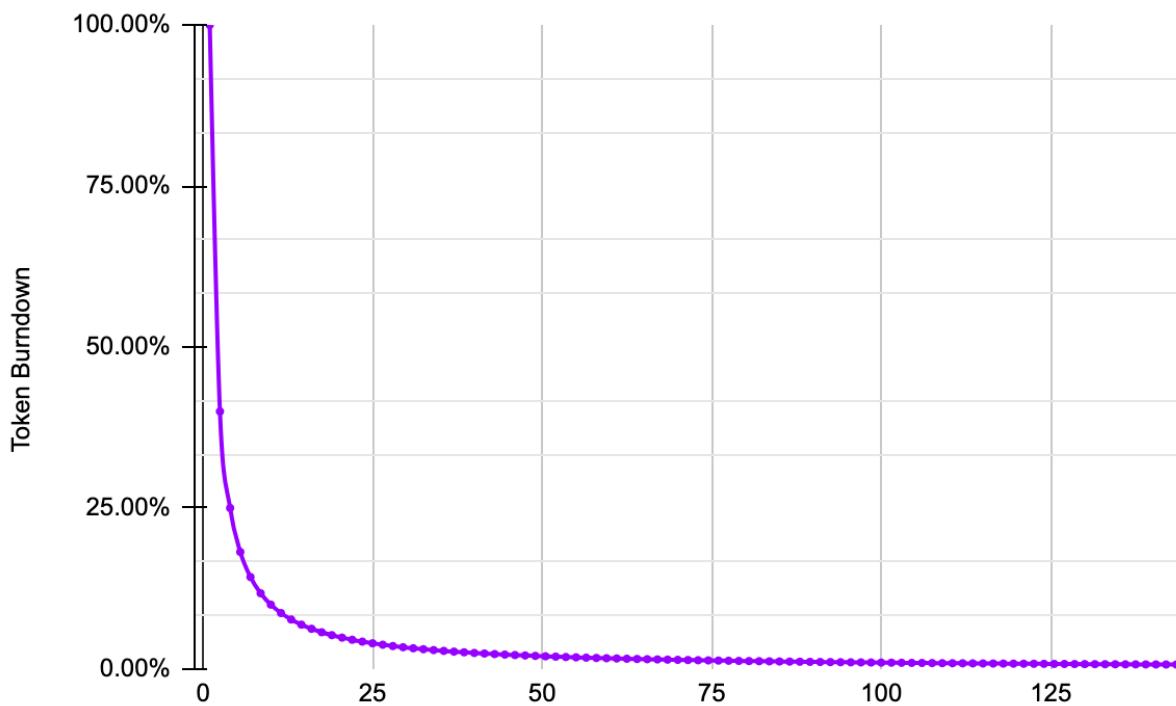

The distribution of these tokens is carefully planned to sustain the ecosystem and reward those who contribute to its growth. A portion is reserved for the founders, recognising their role in establishing and nurturing United Dogedom. Another segment is allocated for operational expenses, ensuring the smooth running and development of the project. A significant portion is set aside for community engagement, including Superfan airdrops and incentives for content creation, fostering a vibrant and active community.

Token Distribution

- Founders (20%): This allocation is meant to align the founders with the long-term vision and success of United Dogedom.
- Operating Expenses (3%): Essential for the project's operational sustainability, covering everything from marketing to administration.
- Advisors (2%): Allocated for the strategists and experts guiding United Dogedom's journey.
- Community Engagement & Influencers (5%): These tokens are earmarked for rewarding active community members and influential supporters, crucial for growing United Dogedom.
- Public Sale (70%): The largest portion, ensuring a decentralized and community-focused ecosystem.

But wait, There's More

Introducing The Tokenomics of $VOTE Burn

Let's face it. Sometimes you have a great campaign going and no-one turns up with $VOTE. We want to ensure that those who exercise their $VOTE are rewarded accordingly.

This is why we'd be following-up with the Plan to Burn 50% of the token supply after the initial Launch and sale period. We commit to burning weekly tokens in our supply, reducing the Max Supply to that good old 21 million Bit special.

In a strategic initiative to bolster the value and rarity of the $VOTE token, we have implemented a decisive token burn policy, designed to significantly decrease the total supply from an initial count of 332 million down to a target of 21 million tokens. Our approach commences with an aggressive initial burn, slashing the total supply by 50% down to 166 million tokens.

Subsequently, we sustain a consistent weekly burn of 1.5 million tokens. This steady and predictable reduction is carefully calculated to reach our target supply of 21 million tokens by the week 100. The gradual decrease in supply through this burn mechanism not only reinforces the exclusivity of the $VOTE token but also instills a deflationary characteristic to its economy, progressively enhancing its potential value.

By meticulously managing the supply reduction, we aim to cultivate a robust and dynamic economic environment within the United Dogedom, elevating the $VOTE token to a coveted status in the digital asset realm.
